

THE ANNUAL ORANGE COUNTY BLACK HISTORY PARADE & CULTURAL FAIRE

Each year the Orange County Heritage Council hosts the Black History Parade and Cultural Faire on the first Saturday in February. Since the first parade in 1980 more than half a million people have witnessed this great event.

The rich cultural heritage of this event has become one of the remarkable stories of the County.

Featured in the Parade and Cultural Faire are more than 150 participants and vendors who promote health and wellness, public agencies, educational information, entrepreneurship, as well as providing a venue for small businesses to reach a diverse clientele.

Established in 2008, the Orange County Heritage Council is a 501(c)3 charitable nonprofit organization designed to provide cultural awareness and promote the historical contributions of Black People in the Orange County communities and throughout the United States.
